Dear Dr. Philip Wright,

Re: Ms. Sandra Marcus, DOB 15/01/1985

I am writing to refer Ms Marcus, a librarian whose symptoms are consistent with multi-nodular goiter. Your further assessment is highly appreciated.

Ms Marcus is a single woman with one child. She is a known asthmatic and uses Ventolin relieves inhaler. She has undergone appendectomy at fifteen years.

Initially, on 12/05/2021, Ms Marcus presented with complaint of fever, sore throat & general malaise after her trip to India. She was advised rest and fluids.

On 05/08/2021, Ms Marcus visited the clinic with complaint of painless, olive size swelling of her neck. On examination, her vitals and other systems were normal; however, neck examination revealed swelling of 2x2 cm on anterior neck, it was non tender and moved with deglutition. Therefore, thyroid function tests and ultrasound of neck were ordered. On 21/8/2021, she had no new symptoms. Her thyroid function test was normal; however, ultrasound of neck showed multiple nodules and calcification on both lobes of thyroid. She was advised surgical review of rule out malignancy. She asked for one week to think it over.

Today, unfortunately, Ms. Marcus came with complaint of increase in the size of her swelling for 1 month. Additionally, she noticed difficulty in swallowing & hoarseness of her voice. Examination showed increase in size of her thyroid and it was firm with limited mobility. Please note, her lymph nodes on right side were enlarged.

Based on the above, I am referring you Ms. Marcus for further assessment and management.
