Re: Mr. John Samuel, 26 years old

Dear Nurse Wilson,

I am writing to you regarding Mr. John Samuel who was admitted with the diagnosis of hypoglycemic episode with blood sugar level 2mmol/l & 12 sutures to laceration behind left ear and possible concussion. He is being discharged from our hospital. He requires continuous monitoring, care and follow-up support to ensure continued dietary compliance.

Mr. Samuel lives in Newtown with 3 others in rental housing for his further study. However, his parents live in Leeds. He cooks ^{his} own meal occasionally but buys take-away food more frequently. He often binge drinks on weekends. Moreover, he plays football for ^{the} local team.

In terms of Mr. Samuel's medical background, he has had type 1 diabetes with history of non-compliance with dietary regimen. Furthermore, his recent episode was preceded by playing football on empty stomach and he hit his head following collision with another player.

During hospitalization, Mr. Samuel was on subcutaneous insulin on sliding scale and blood sugar levels were monitored six hourly. Additionally, neurological observations was done 2 hourly.

Wound was managed and it was dry. Ice packs were used to reduce swelling. Furthermore, dietary regimen was commenced with dietician and had good compliance in the hospital. Additionally, Educator provided diabetes education. Therefore, he has sound knowledge of his condition and insulin therapy. Moreover, his weight is normal.

According to his discharge plan, he requires continuous monitoring of his dietary compliance. Please initiate his visits with drug and alcohol counsellor. It is worth noting that, his sutures will be removed in 1 week.

In light of the above, I hope you would provide appropriate case support and ensure his continuous dietary compliance. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any queries.

Yours Sincerely,
Registered Nurse
